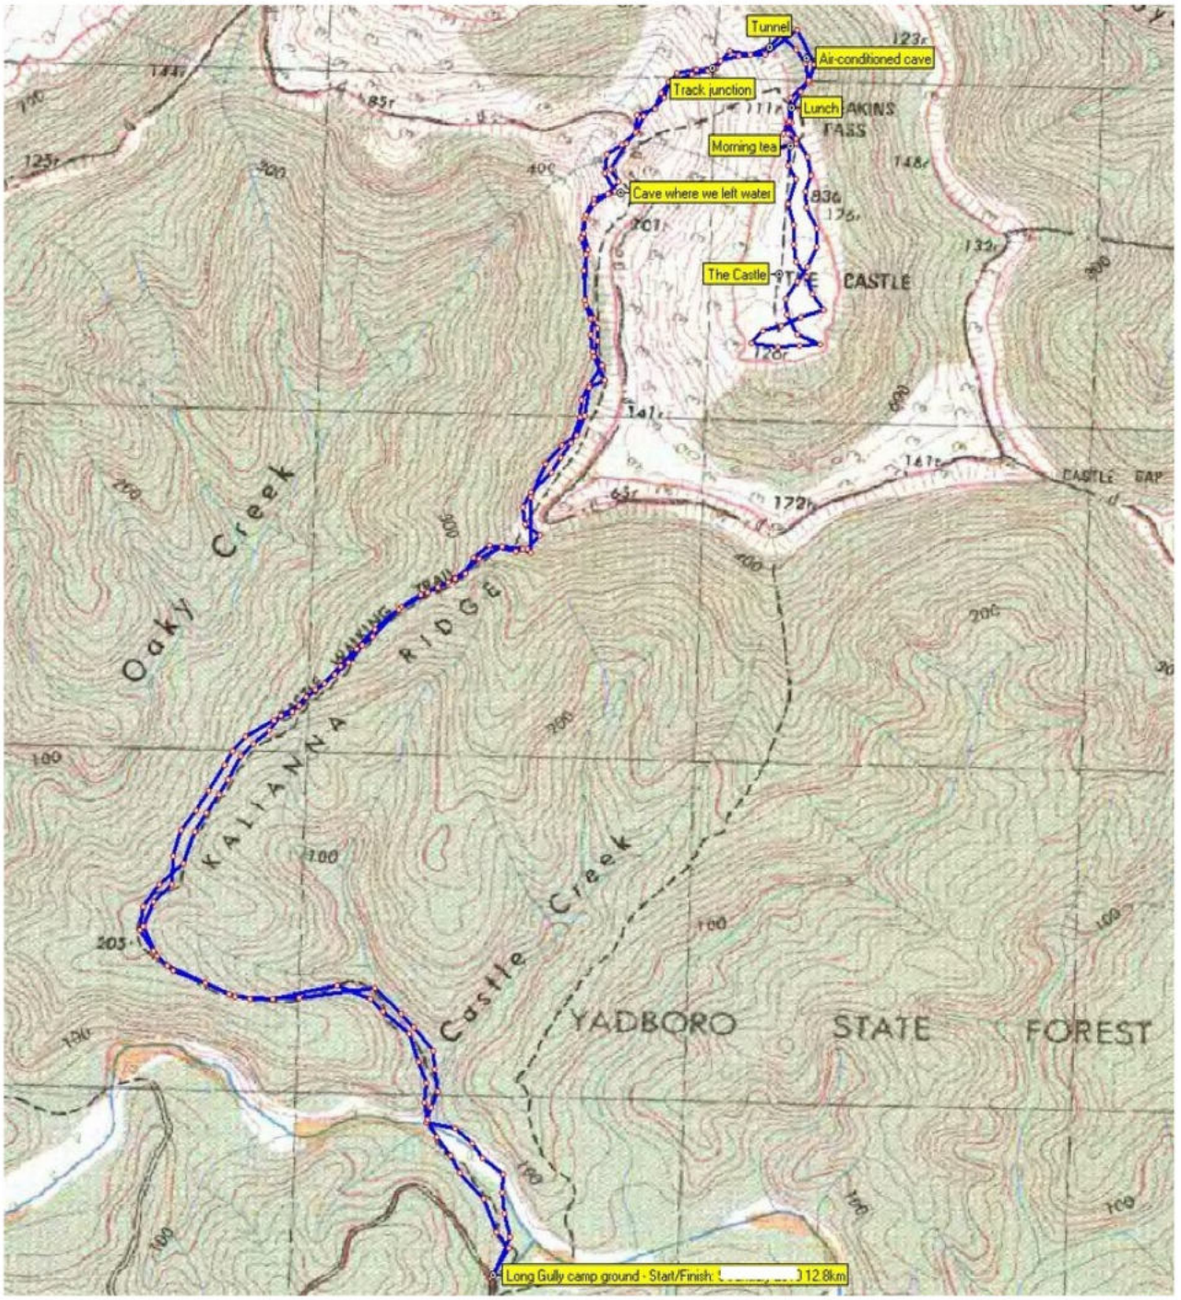
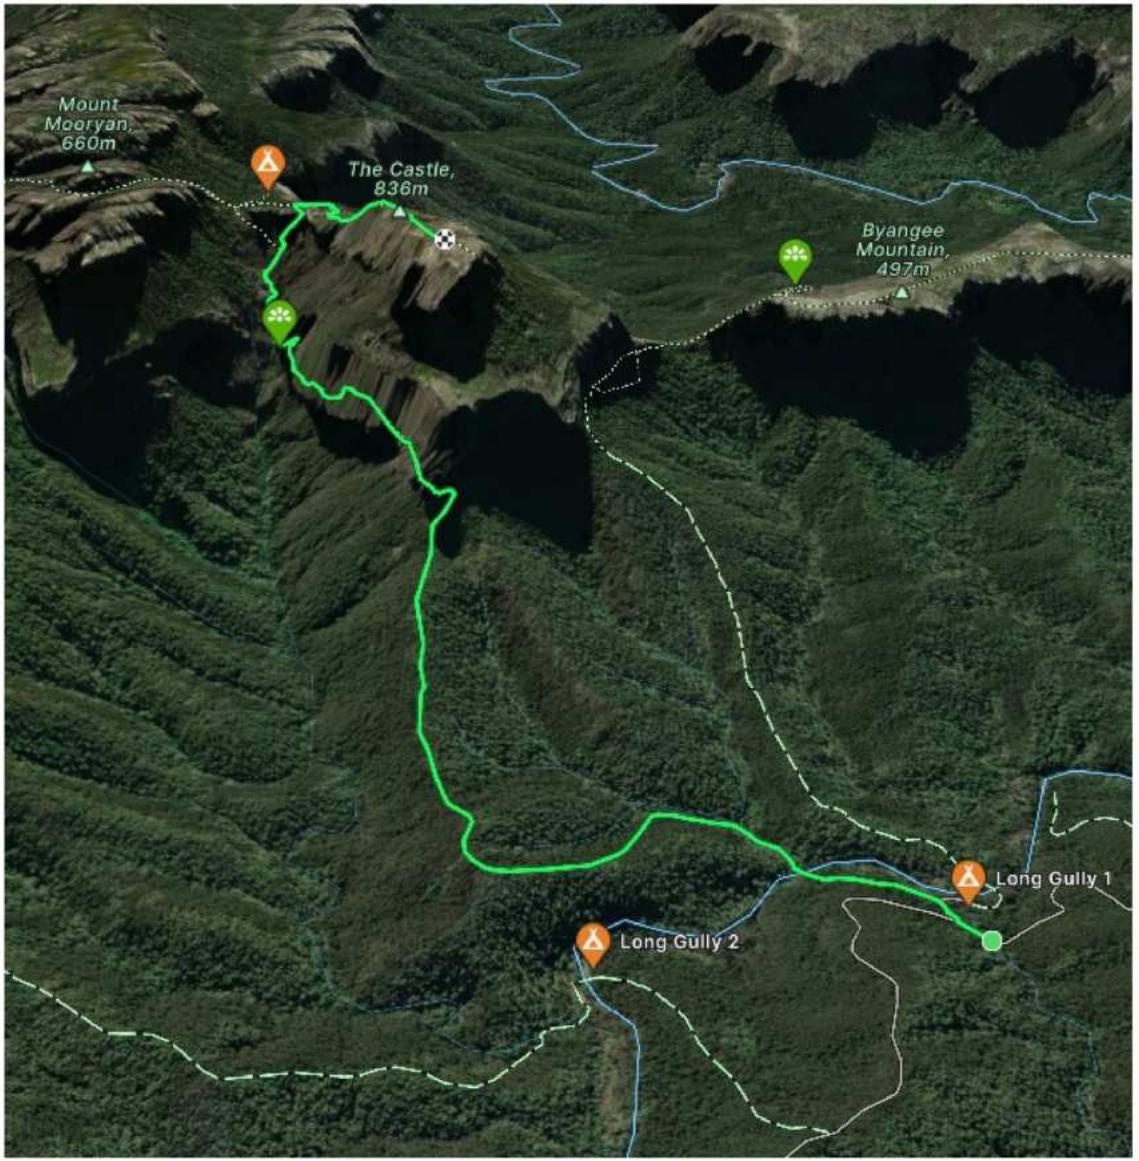
June Long Weekend, 1993, camped at Yadboro River with the Barratts before climbing "The Castle" although Hugh and I were unable to locate the supposed Visitor's Book thereon!



Budawang National Park, Yadboro River campsite, long June weekend, 1993 with Salz, Hall, Barretts, PCM.



Completed extension at 101 Kameruka Road, Northbridge. I was particularly please with the two little windows bthat looked up the driveway and gave cross ventilation.
The whole house was demolished by a subsequent buyer.
Did not they like my two little windows?!

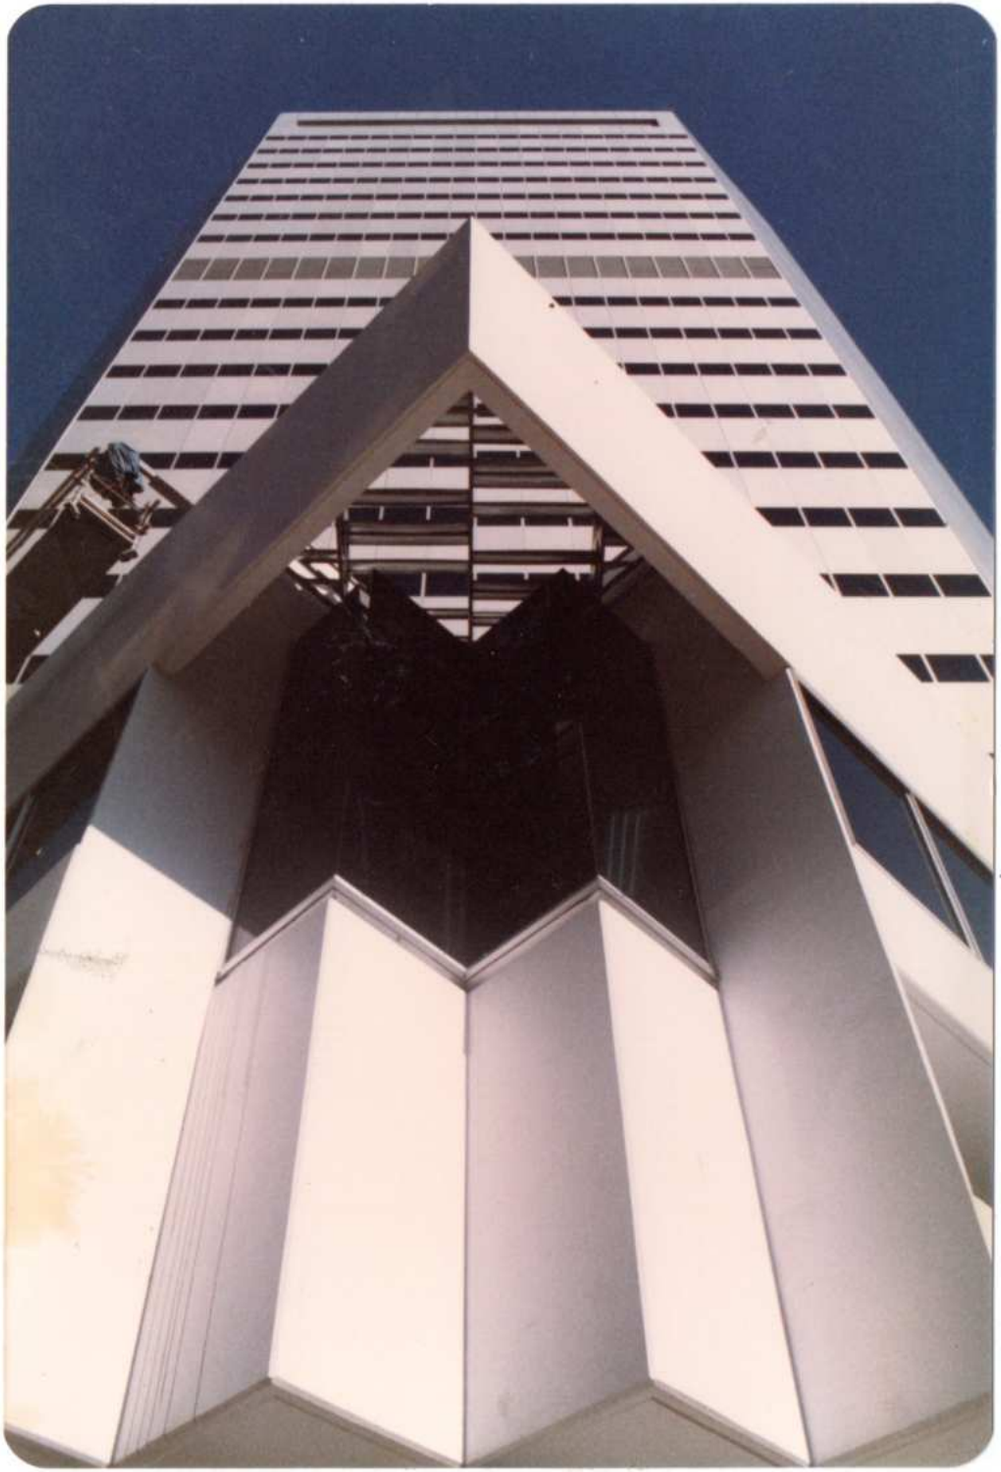
Hugh at the front of the start in the Northbridge Fun Run. Or was it the back?

Between 1982 and 1986 Graham was responsible, as the NSW Development Manager of Costain Australia Pty. Ltd., for the Design and Construction of 1 Margaret Street, Sydney which became known as the Citicorp Centre, [now known as the BDO Building] when they leased the whole building prior to completion, except for 3 floors occupied by the ultimate owner of the building, the State Superannuation Board. The project was a large part of my life and a very profitable one for Costain. The architect was Edwards, Madigan, Torzillo, Briggs International Pty Ltd. Colin Madigan was well known as the architect of the National Art Gallery and High Court in Canberra.

It was a great site having three street frontages; Clarence, Margaret and Kent. However the site was seen by the market as being slightly off centre because it was east of York Street. The building had a net lettable area of about 20,000 square metres over 18 floors plus ground, plus 2 basement levels. An interesting feature was a Council requirement for a through site pedestrian link requiring a tunnel under Clarence Street. At the time there was little pedestrian traffic. Now the wisdom of the Council's foresight can be seen by the heavy traffic through the walkway.

CITICORP

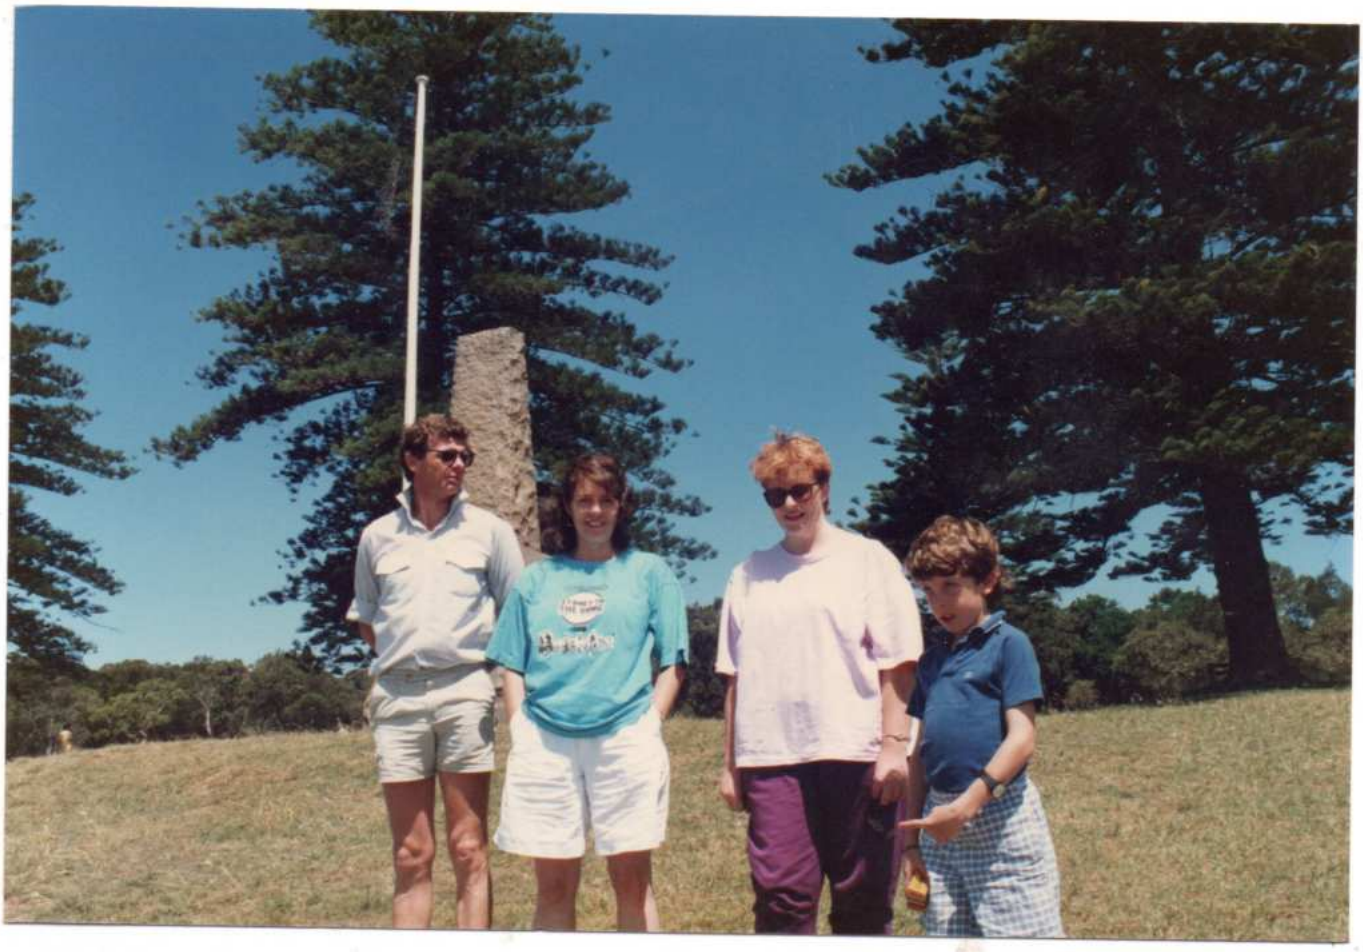
GOLDBERG HOUSE
Packard
Nation



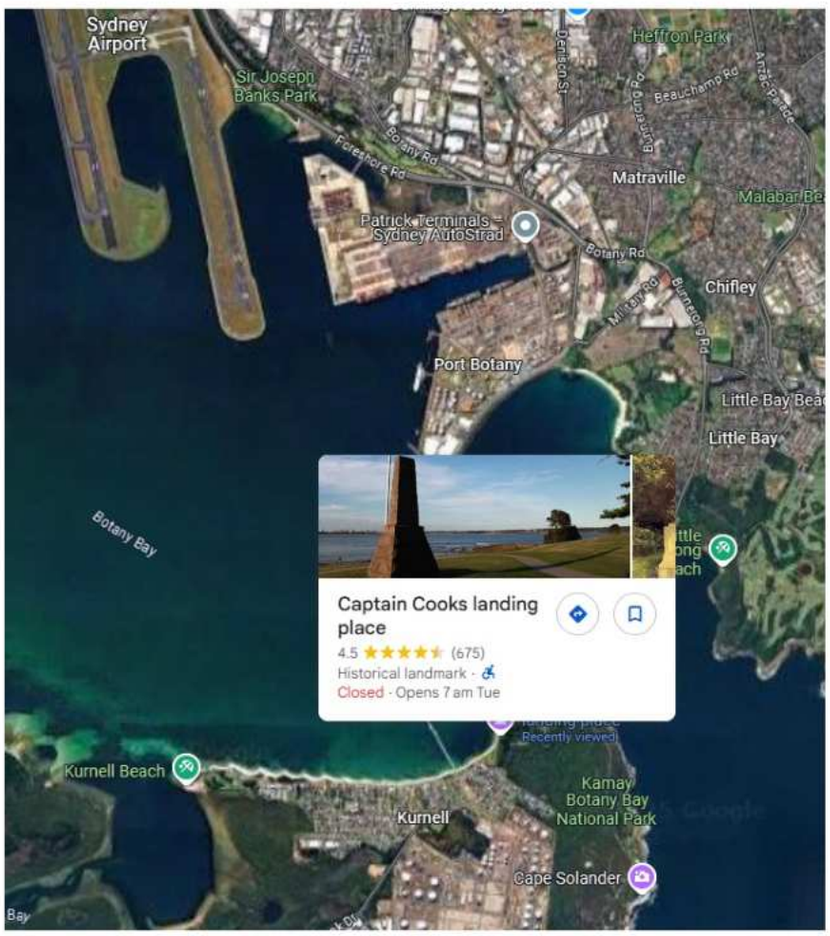
No. 1 MARGARET STREET

Camping somewhere!

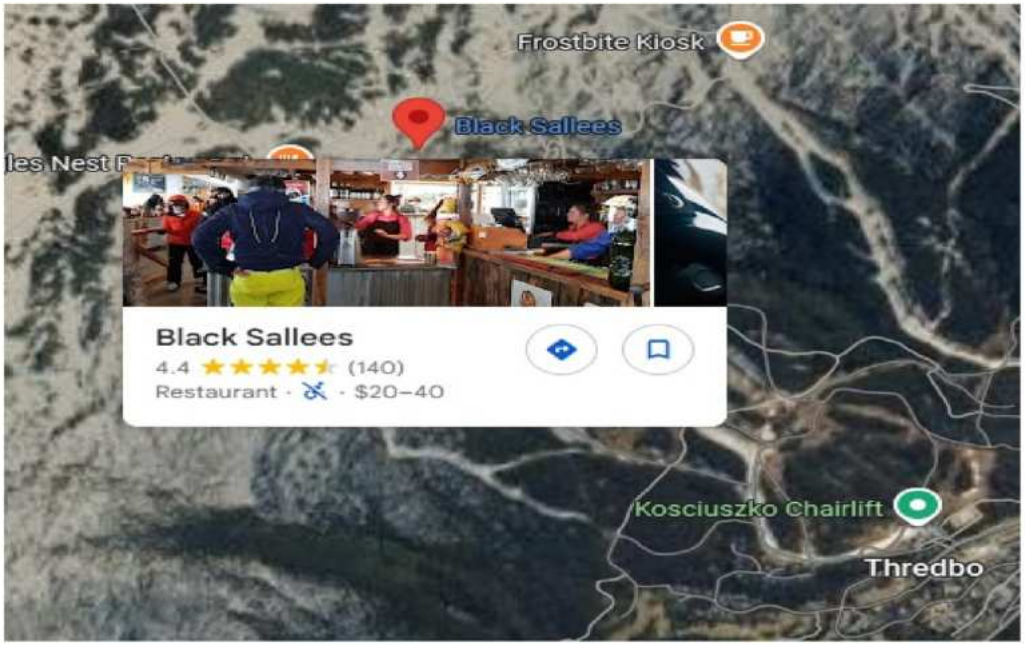
Off to Wollongong, again



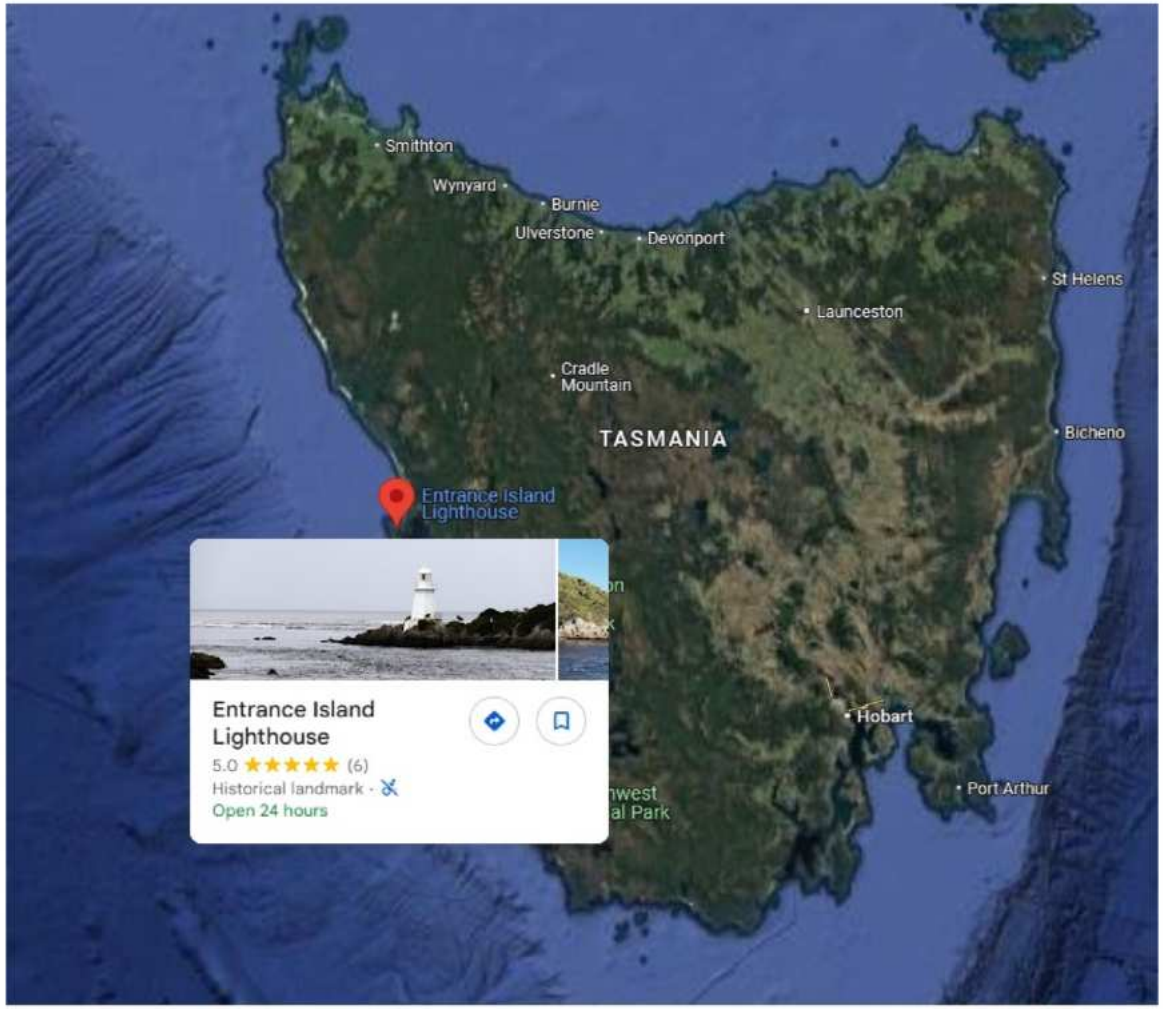
Visit to Captain Cooks Landing Place, on Botany Bay with Ashley Christie-Ling, the cousin and Philippa and thus the second cousin of Hugh. The reason for my discombobulated expression is that the wind is just blowing the camera tripod over as the shutter clicked.



Damp picnic lunch with the Kells at Black Sallees Kiosk, then closed due to the off season; Threbo, New South Wales Snowy Mountains.



Macquarie Harbour, Tasmania, Scenic Boat Trip from Strachan to see the Huon Pines in the Gordon River and return via the lighthouse at Macquarie Heads otherwise known as Hell's Gate.
-42.219198782230414, 145.21995708465892



B27
B24
B24
B24
Strahan
C251
Entrance Island
Lighthouse
Recently viewed
Macquarie
Heads
Macquarie
Harbour
Historic Site
Google

Macquarie Harbour, Tasmania, Scenic Boat Trip from Strachan to see the Huon Pines in the Gordon River and return via the lighthouse at Macquarie Heads otherwise known as Hell's Gate. -42.219198782230414, 145.21995708465892

Trip to Warrumbungle National Park in central New South Wales to explore the Breadknife and undertake the Grand High Tops Walk. With Philip Marsh.

The Breadknife.

Breadknife and Grand High Tops walk

Overview map

Alongside The Breadknife

Viewing The Breadknife

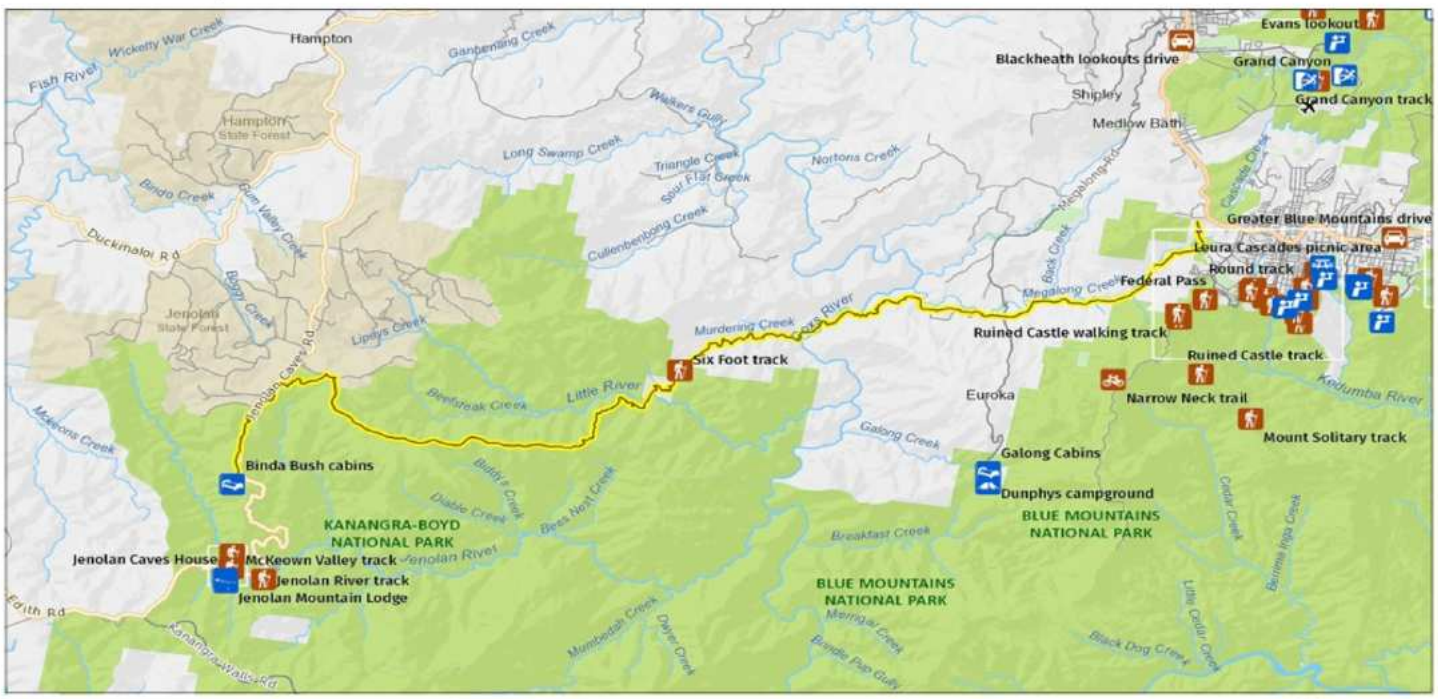
WILSON'S REST

SIX FOOT TRACK

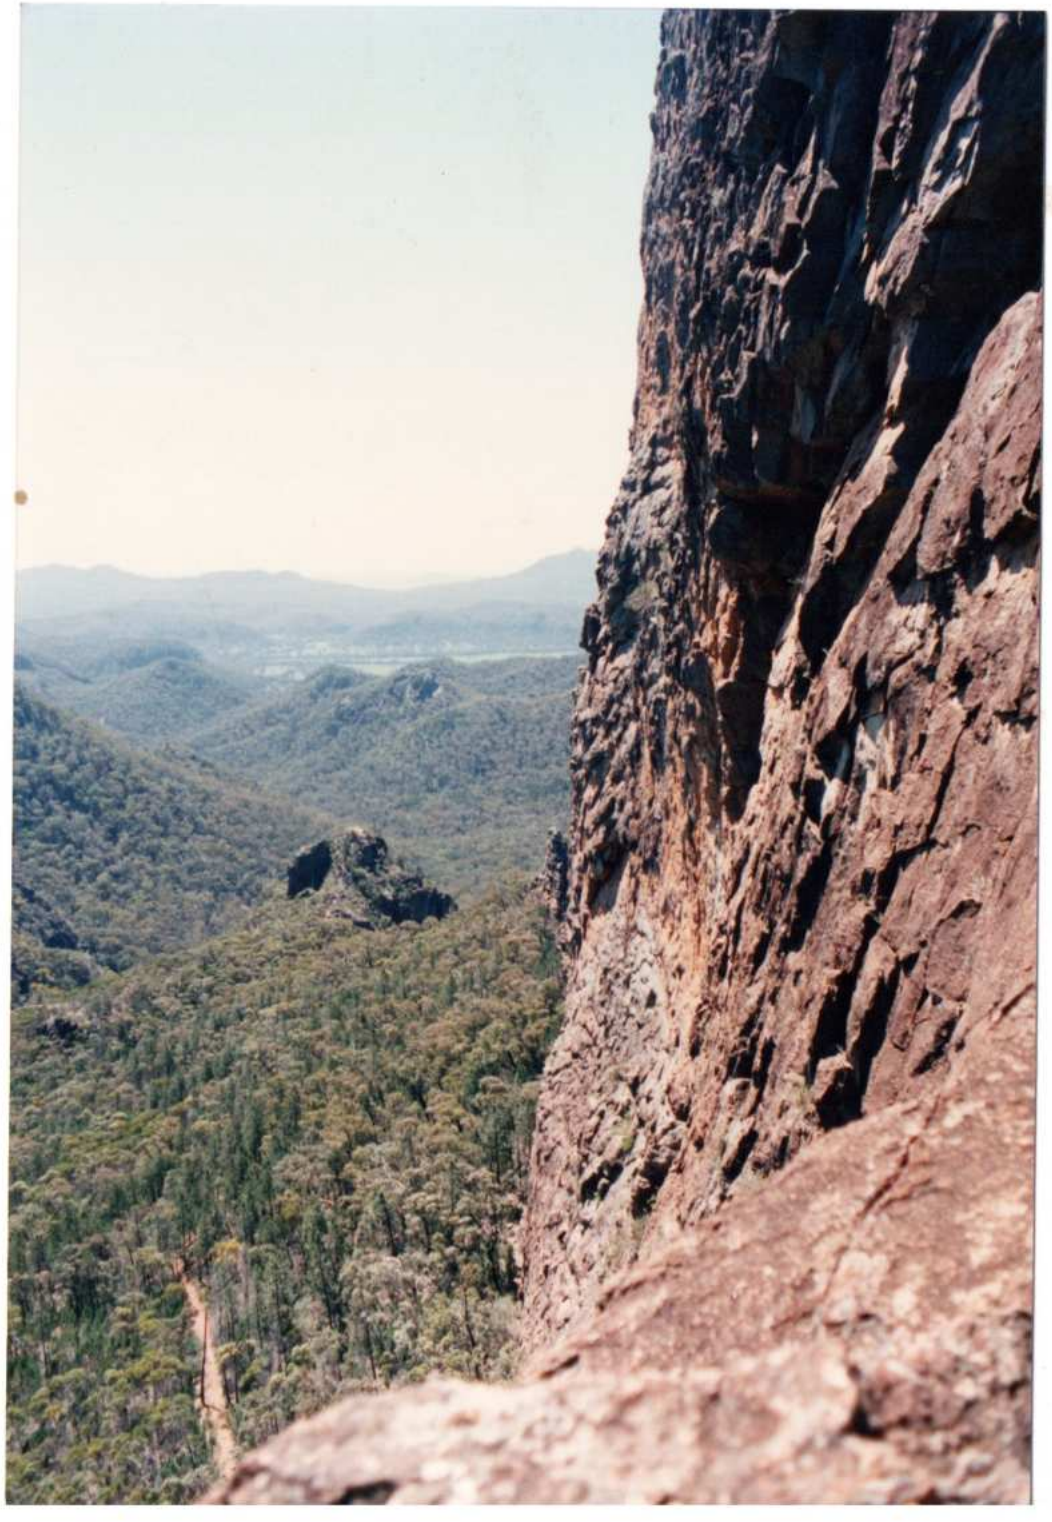
We arranged a Northbridge group to walk the Six Foot Track overnight from Katoomba to Jenolan Caves, from left: German exchange student, John Kell, Lynne [research assistant of] Graeme Kelly, Sally Kell, GHM, Libby Davidson, Andy Eaton, Unknown, Lee Jackson, Robyn Lamond, PCM. Photograph by Stuart Lamond.

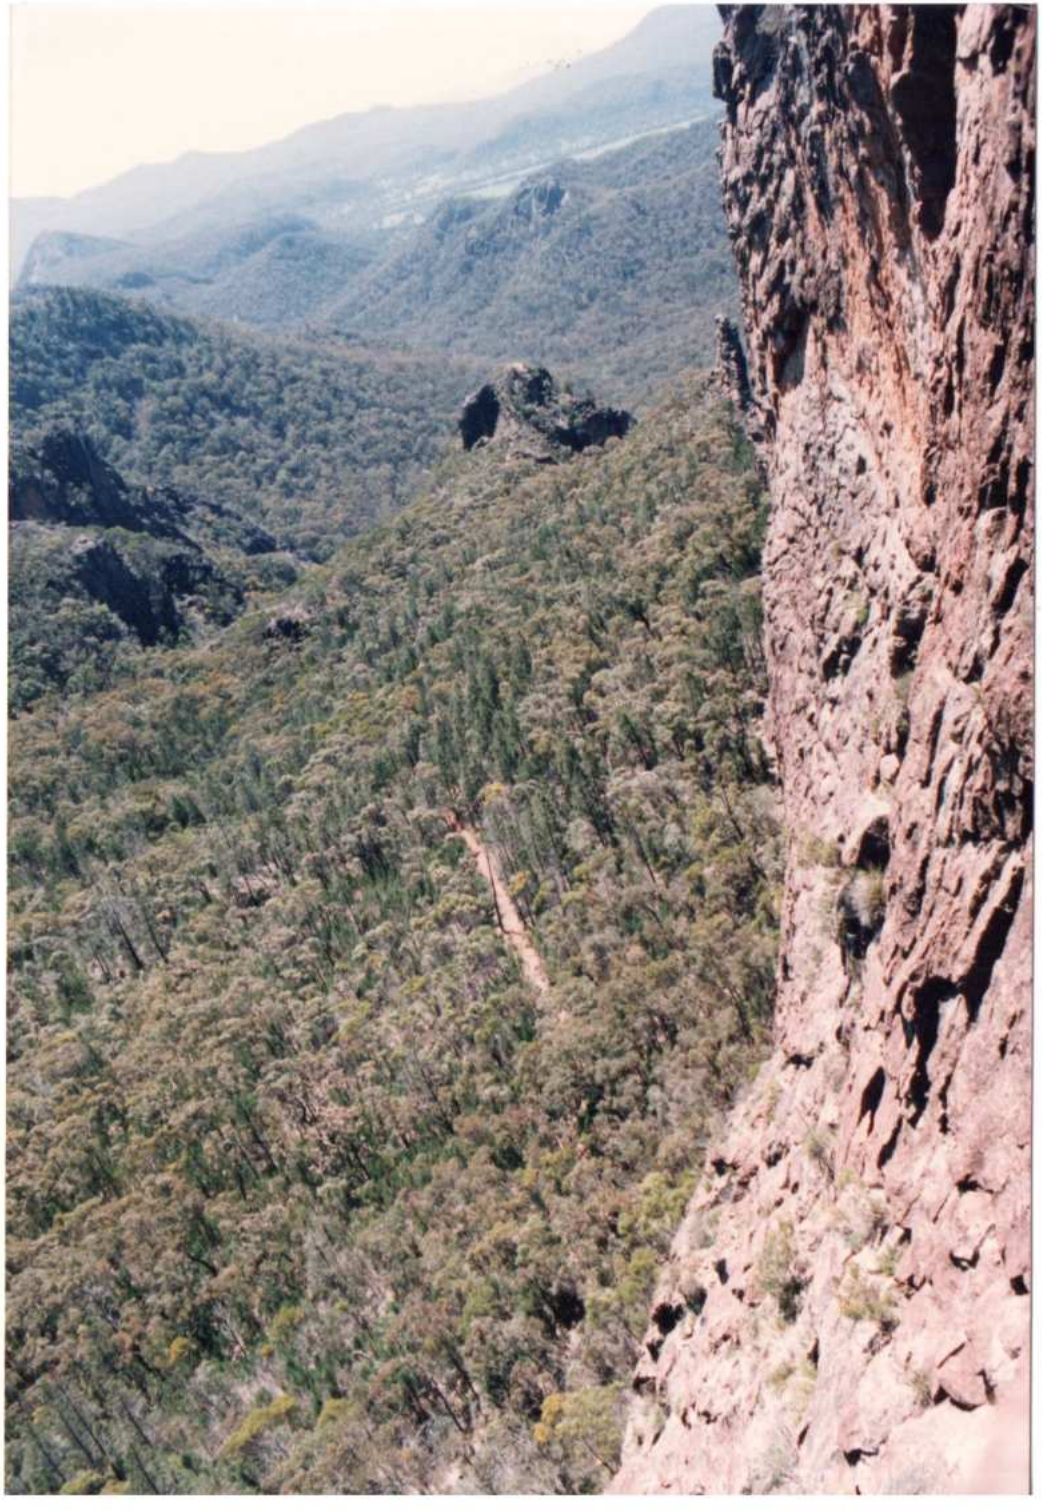
Six Foot track

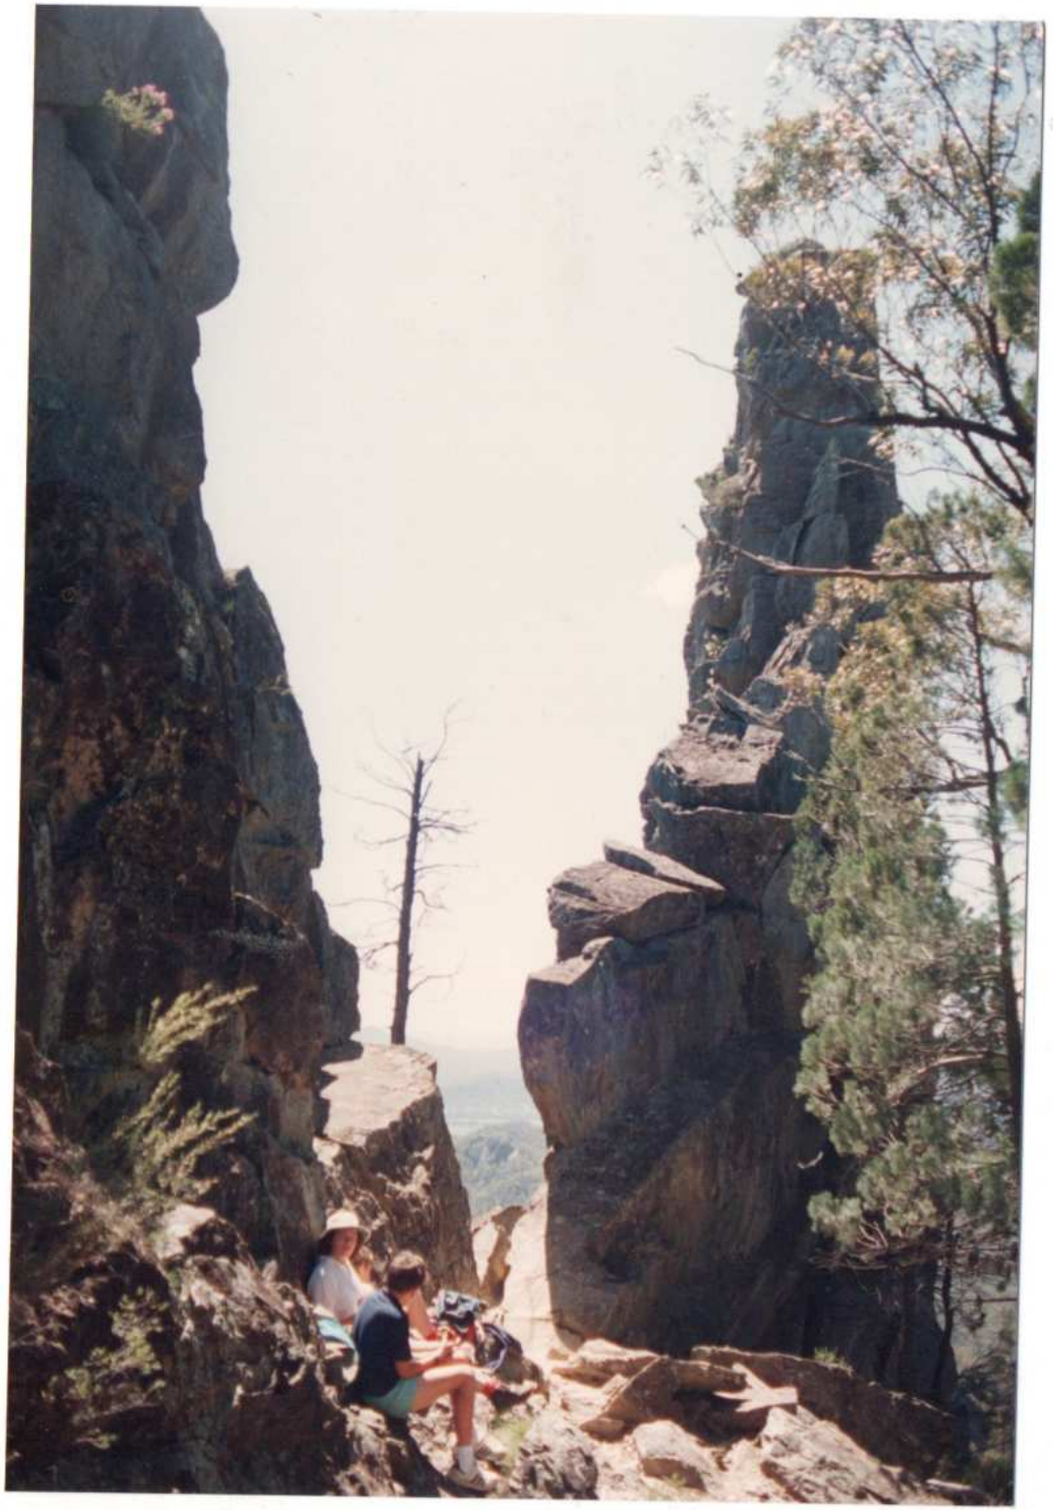
Overview map

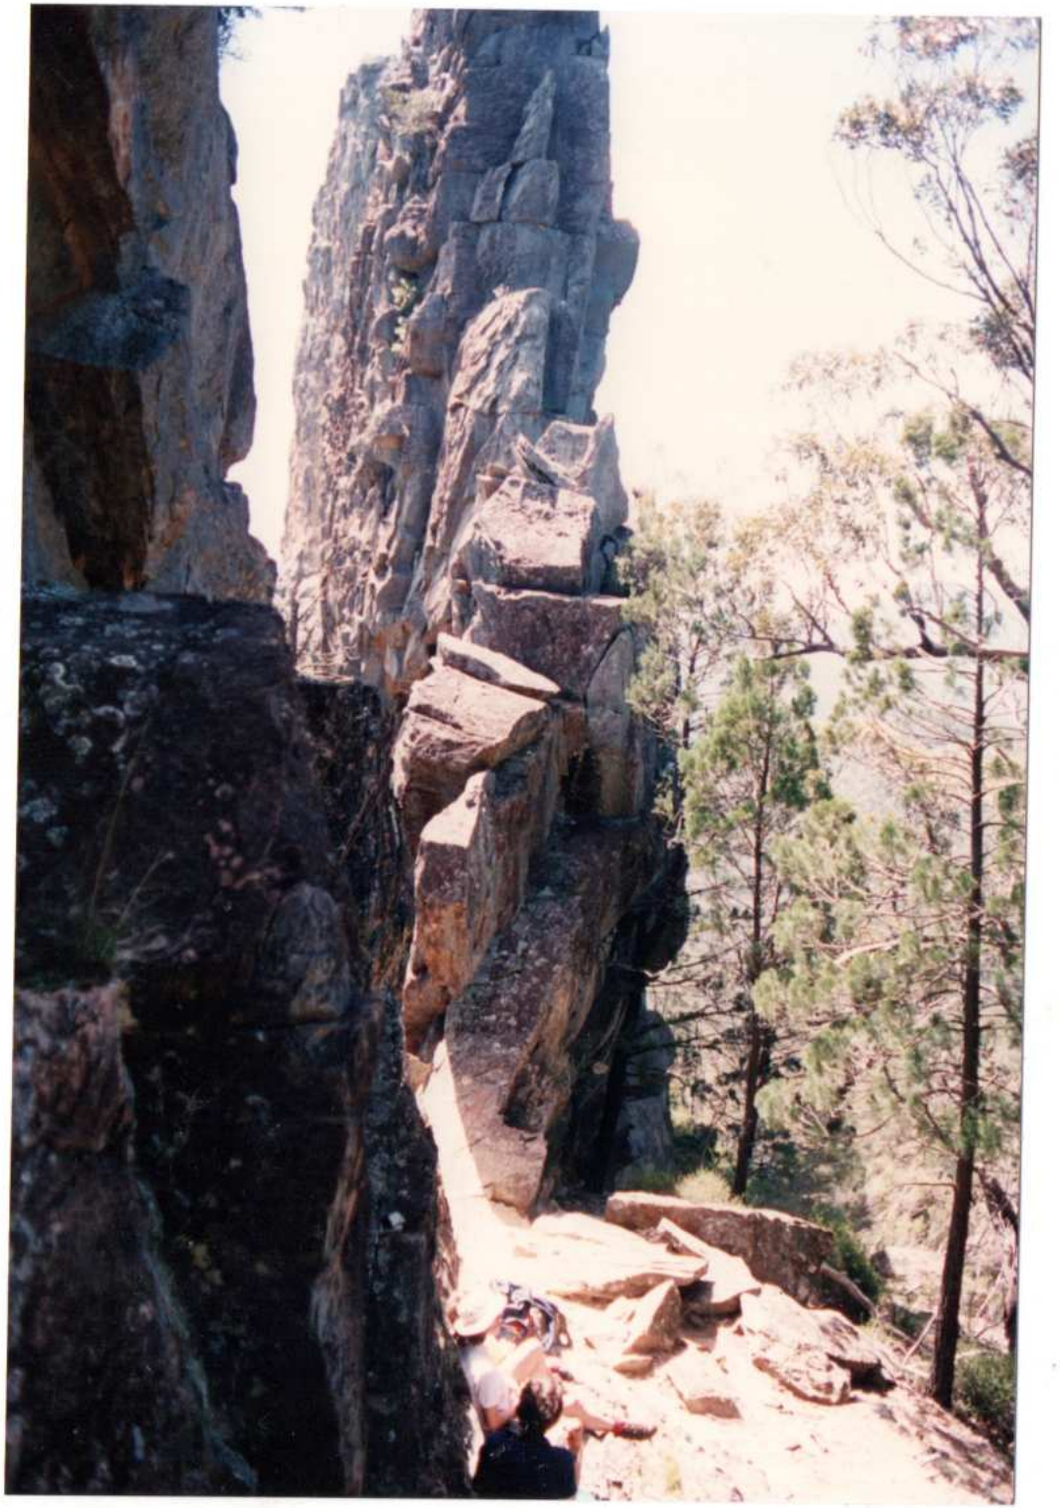


MAP INFORMATION
This map does not provide detailed information on topography, alerts or opening times and may not be suitable for some activities.
Map Published: 14-Oct-2024









PINCHAM TRAIL
BREADKNIFE 4·7 KM
GRAND HIGH TOPS 5·5 KM
BLUFF MT 8·4 KM
BRESS PEAK 3·3 KM
FEBAR TOR 2·8 KM
CLIMBING THE BREADKNIFE
PROHIBITED
FANS HORIZON 1·8 KM
ALL VEHICLES PROHIBITED

The Bush Mill Railway was a 15 in (381 mm) gauge miniature railway, situated 2 km (1.2 mi) from Port Arthur, Tasmania. It opened in 1986. It closed on 30 June 2004. via Wikipedia.

BUSH HILL PLATFORM

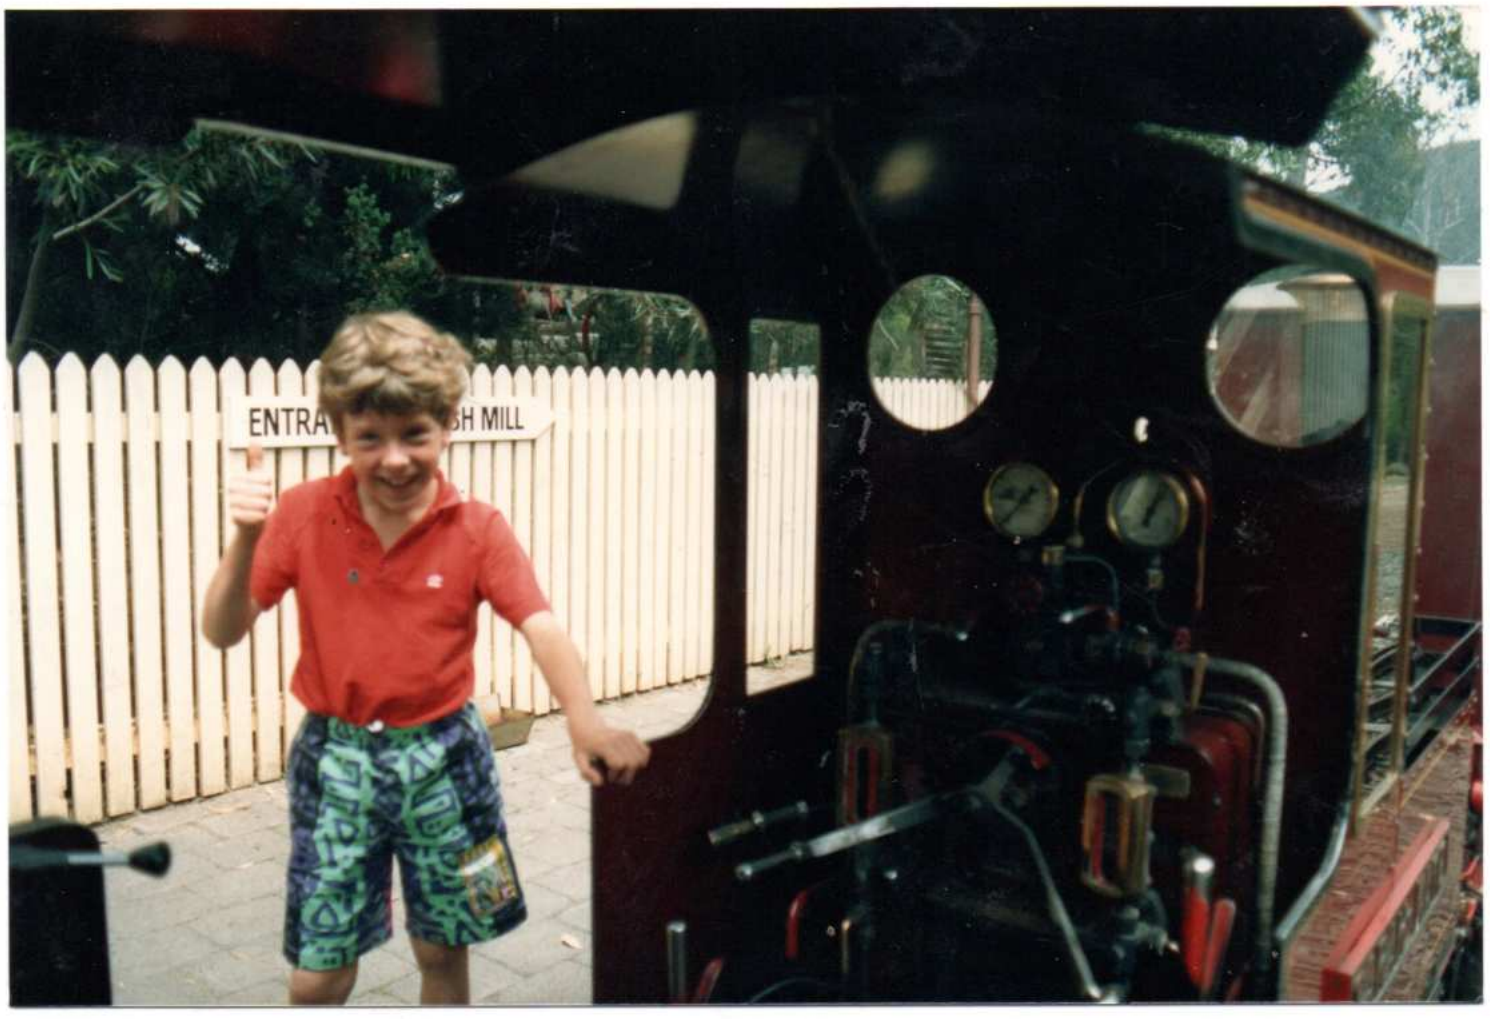
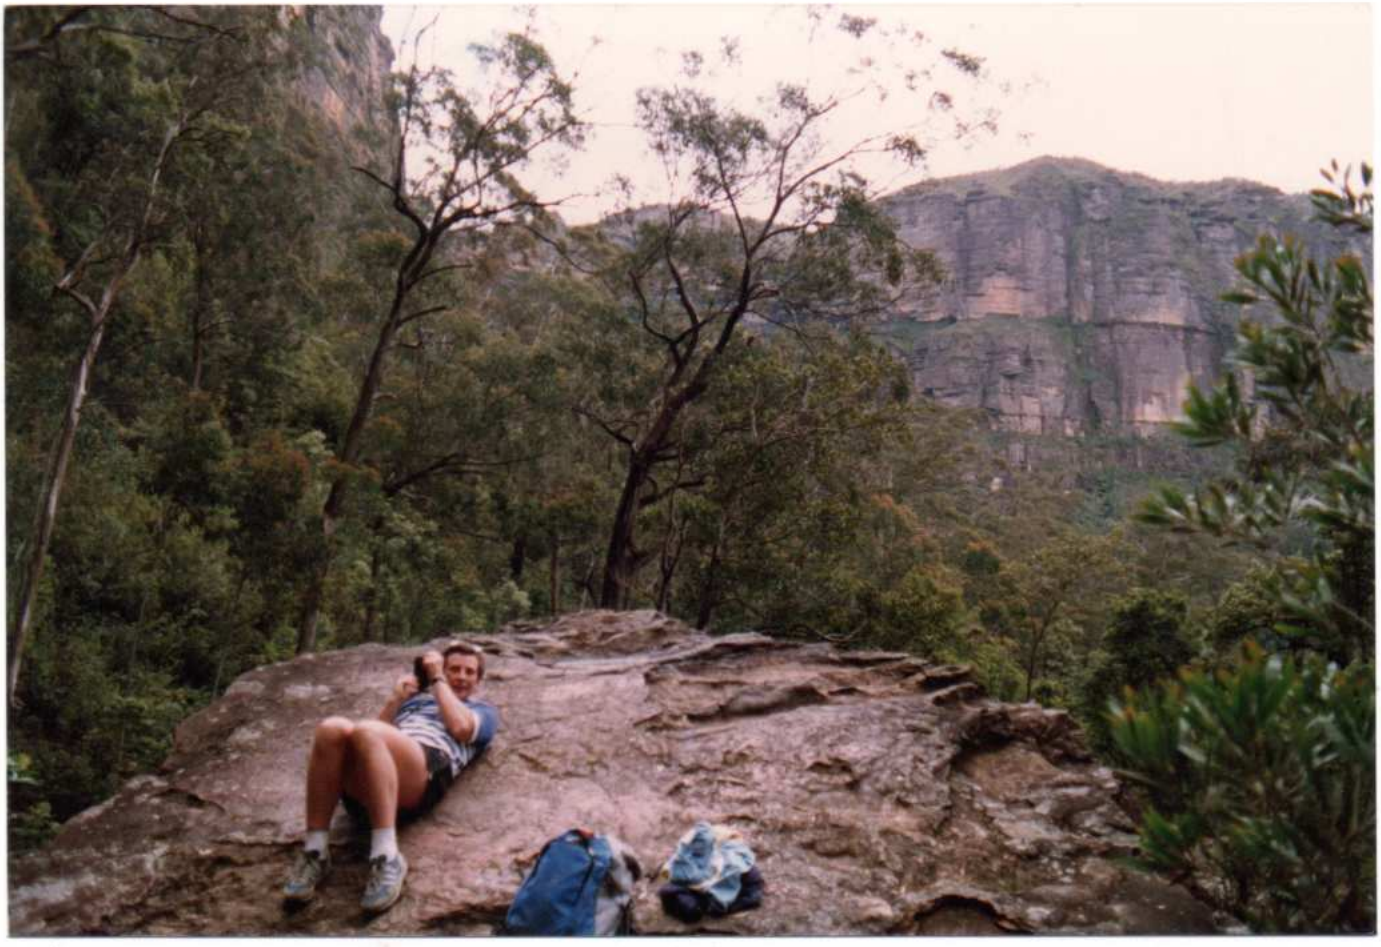
RANCE

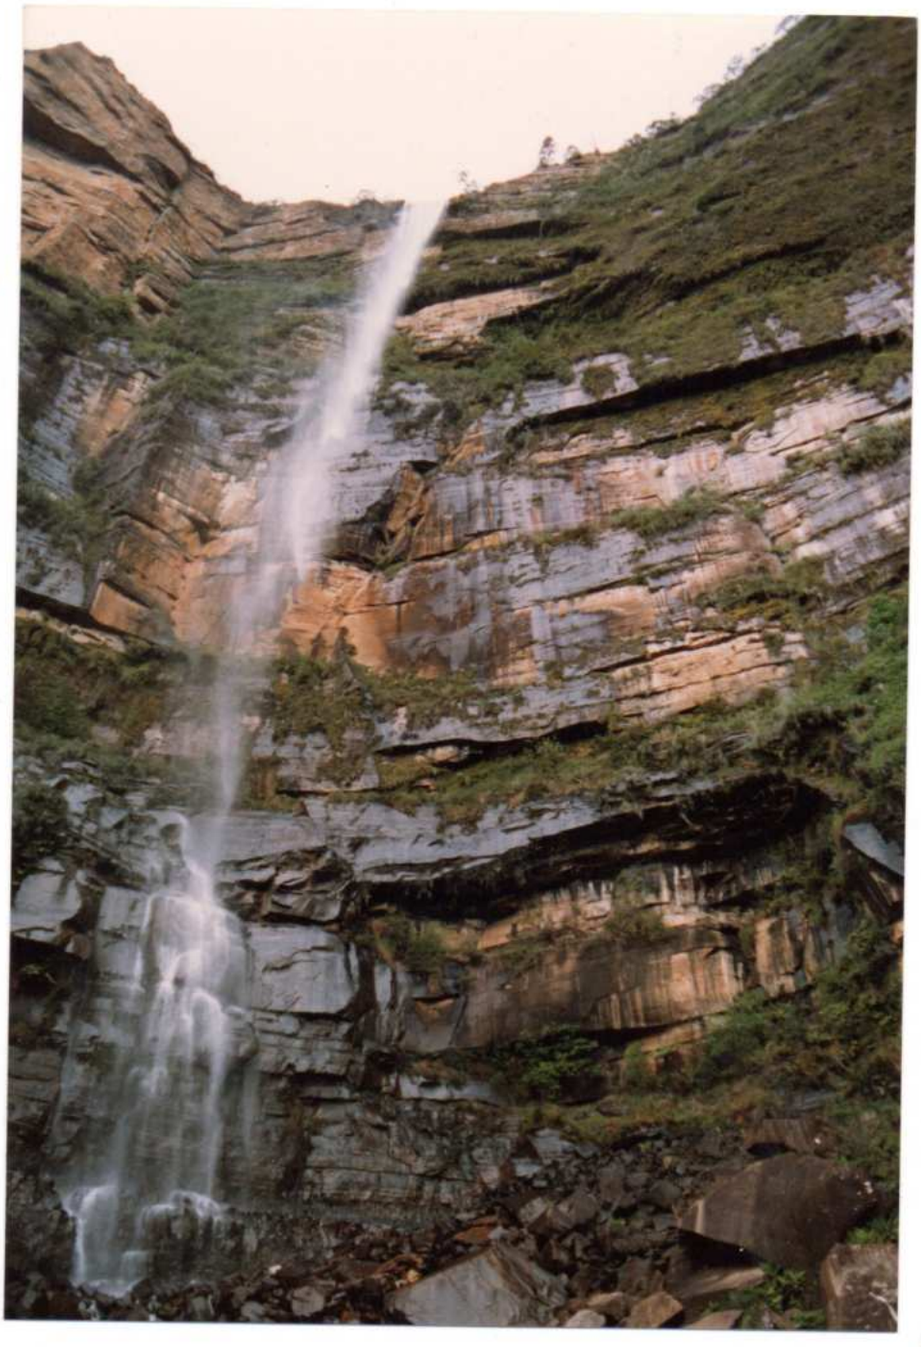


H MILL

ENTRAN
TO BUSH

SARAH-KATE

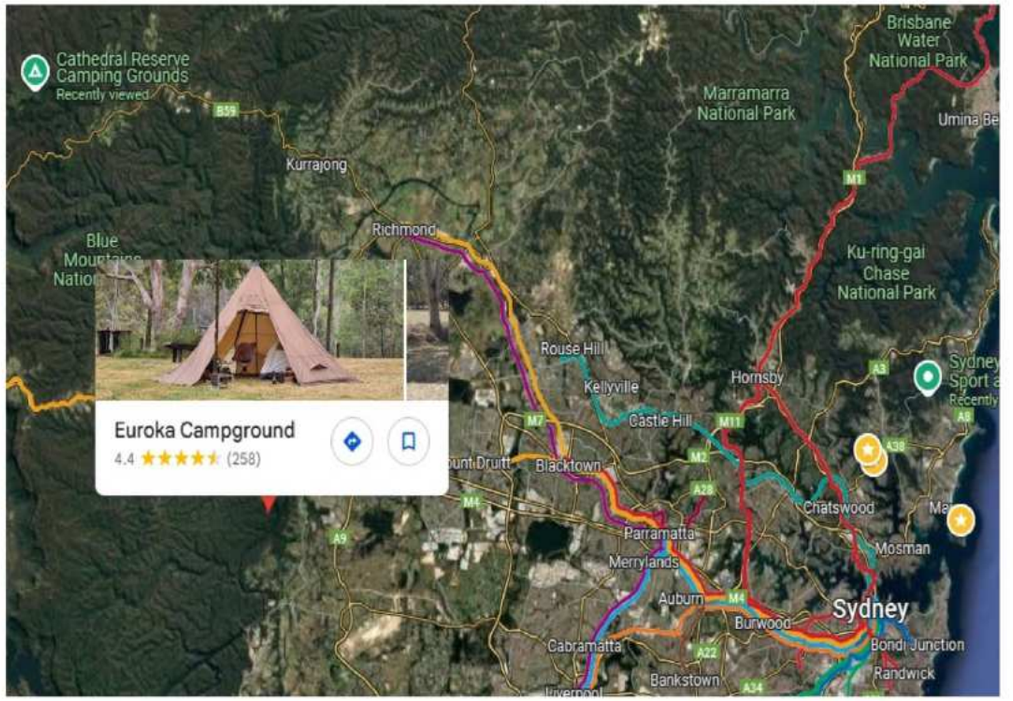




With Malcolm in the new extension

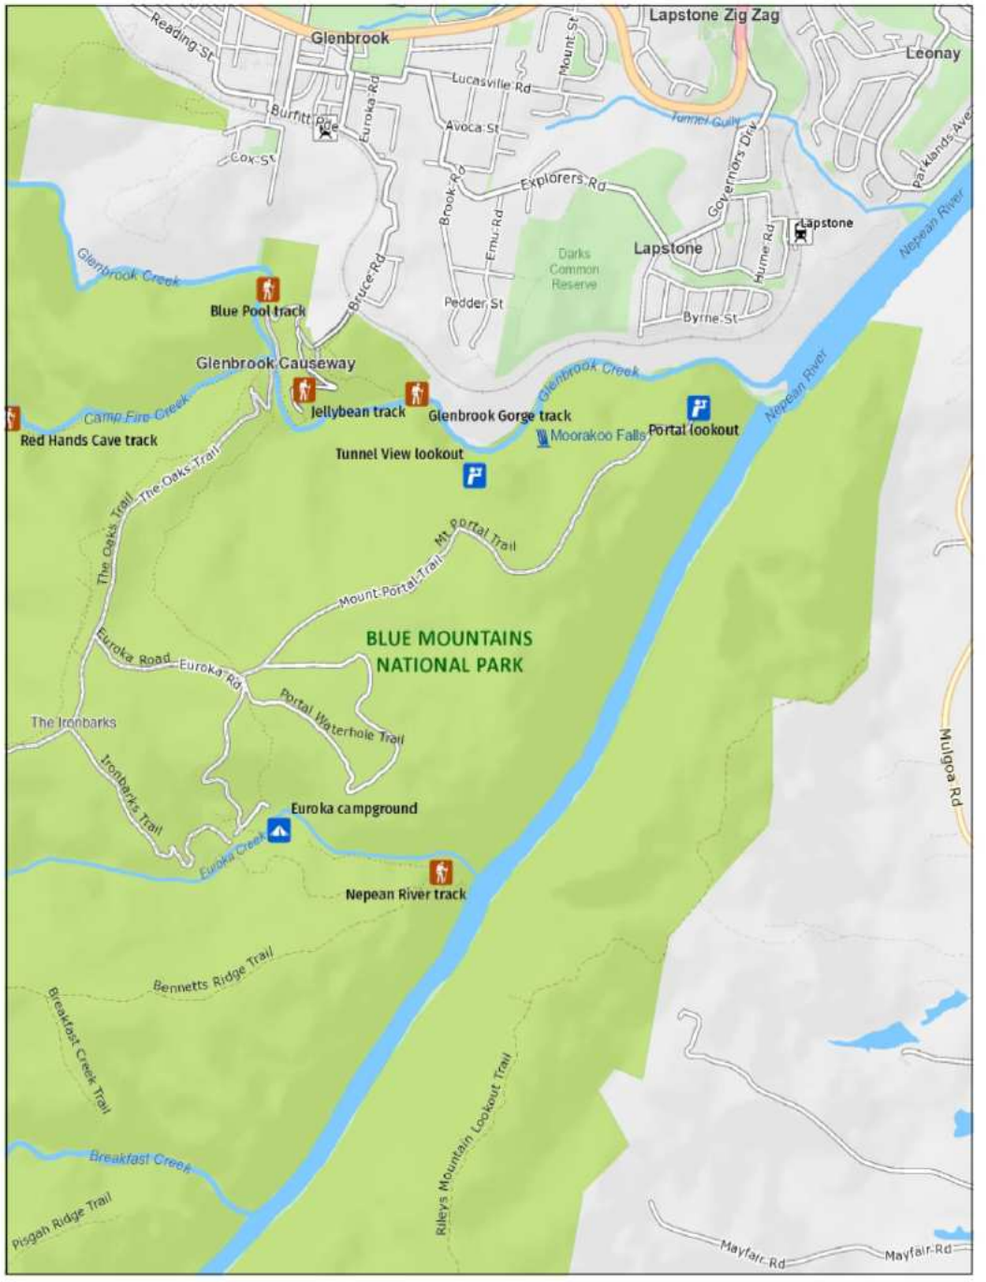
Camping with the Barratt Family.

Euroka Campground, Fern Glen Walking Track, Blue Mountains National Park NSW 2787.
-33.79903783760085, 150.61861430891986



Euroka campground

Detail: Glenbrook Causeway to Euroka

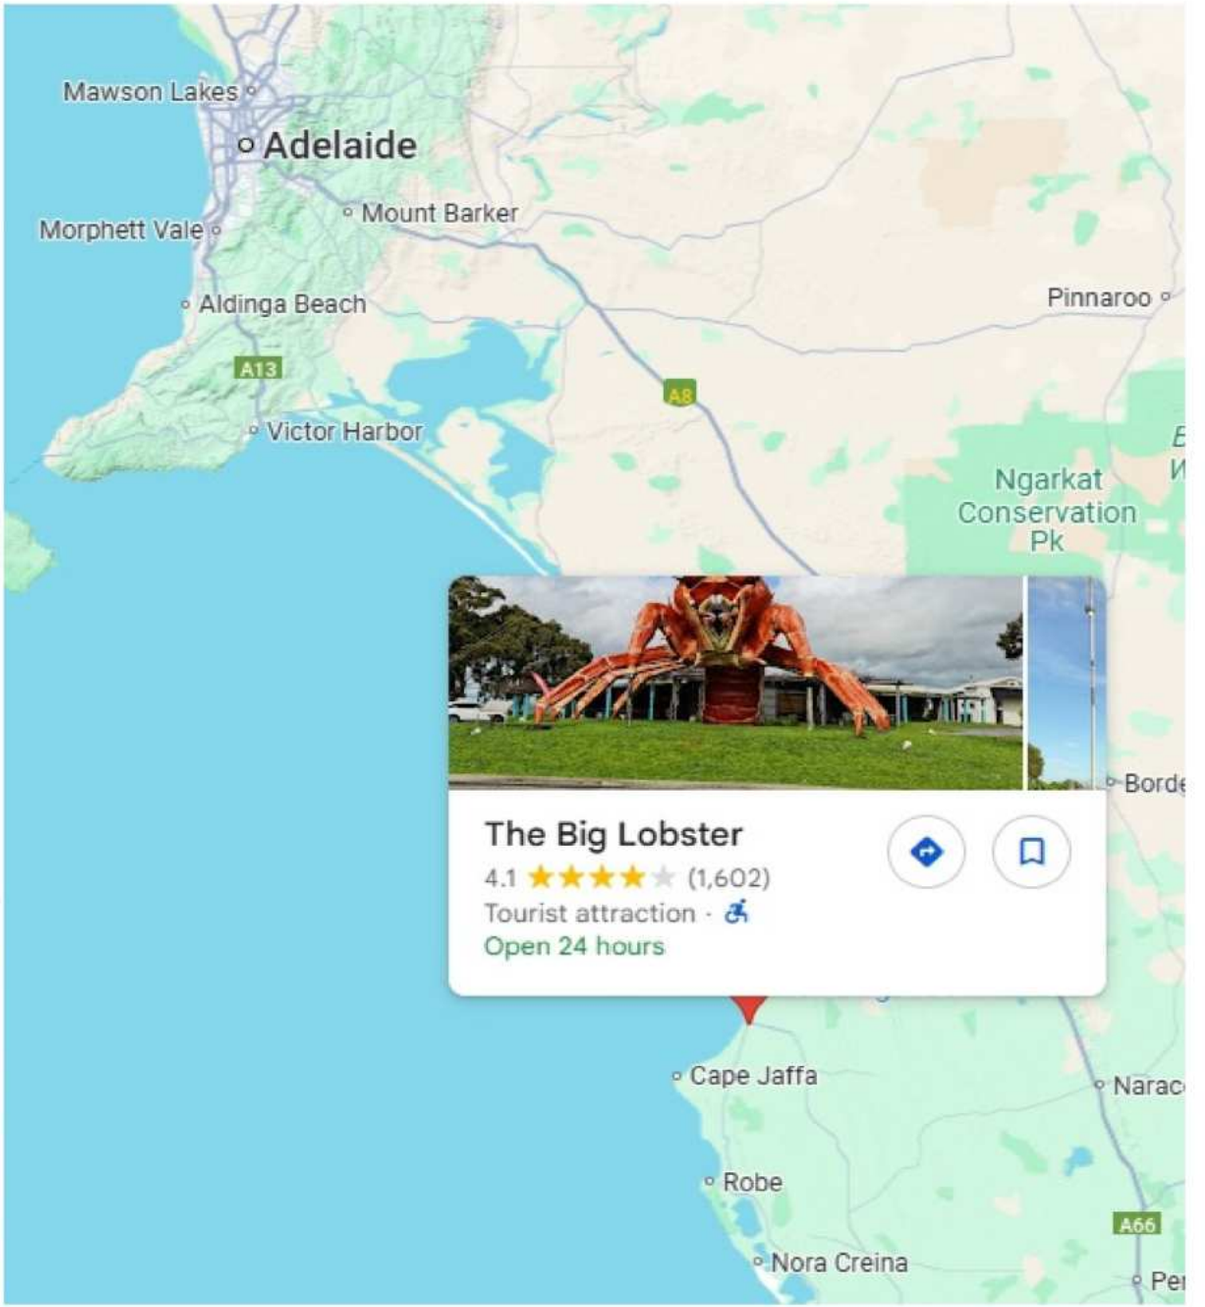


Ho!

Ho!

Ho!

“The Big Lobster is a tourist attraction located in the town of Kingston SE, South Australia. Known locally as Larry the Lobster, the sculpture of a spiny lobster stands 17 metres tall, and is regarded as one of the most impressive of Australia's Big Things. Designed and built by Paul Kelly for Ian Backler and Rob Moyse, it is made of steel and fibreglass and was intended to attract attention to the restaurant and visitor centre at which it is situated. The Big Lobster was opened on 15 December 1979 after six months of construction.” Via Wikipedia.



TAKE-AWAY FOOD
SOUVENIRS
Lic. BISTRO & CAFE
TOURIST INFO
FRESH LOBSTER & SEAFOOD
PLAYGROUND BOTTLE SHOP

Hugh and I actually on London Bridge about 5 months before its collapse!

"Originally a natural archway and tunnel, London Bridge collapsed on 15 January 1990 and became an isolated arch no longer connected to the mainland. Two tourists stranded on top of the remaining island had to be rescued by helicopter." Via Wikipedia.